Subject: Perch Base Web Page Update

If you haven't checked out the Perch Base web page recently (www.perch-base.org) you really should. Since we split off the web page responsibility from Communications Officer duties, our Webmaster, Dan Marks (webmaster@perch-base.org) has technically polished and improved the page brilliantly. Now, for the first time, we have video right on the front page! And not just "a" video but a full selection of videos catalogued by historical period!

All of the other great features – including our world-class "Glossary of Terms" are there but faster, clearer and better. Take a minute and try it out. As "Mikey" in the old commercial said, "Try it, you'll like it!"

It you do like it – and you will – send an e-mail to Dan with your comments.
