Subject: Laveen Parade (Update)

There are a couple of corrections and changes about the Laveen Parade this Saturday. Although the locations and times are correct, there are a couple of modifications:

- Although the times for the parade are correct, the implication for being there 9 – 9:45 is misleading. Things don't start hoping until 10:30 or so but . . . keep in mind traffic and parking. "Early bird gets the worm."
- Now directions. Roads are torn up or blocked off so follow these instructions. The COB scoped out this route and guarantees it will avoid underwater obstacles and Russian "Foxtrots."
  - Exit I-10 at 51st Ave. Go south approximately five (5) miles to Olney Ave. (Olney is about five streets past Dobbins Road.)
  - Turn left on Olney Ave. and proceed to 43rd Ave.
  - Turn left 43rd Ave. and find a place to park. You'll see the staging area in front of you along 43rd Ave. To the best of our knowledge, we're the only submarine in the parade.
