Subject: USSVI National Launching New Website

Shipmates,

At long last, we are almost complete with our new national website! Please read this email in its entirety!

We are starting the final testing of our website over the next two weeks or so. All testers have been selected from a variety of bases, districts, and regions, with the goal of launching the website to everyone by 3/31/26.

Once our testing is complete, both the old and new websites will be offline for 5 days, so we can capture the latest data from the old site and transition it to the new site. At that point, we will launch the new site and take the old site offline.

All Bases - please ensure that your records are up to date on the old site, so we can capture your latest data.

Please be patient, just a little longer - we will provide directions and information prior to launch. We expect to find a few issues during testing, which we will fix as quickly as possible, and do not believe we will have major issues regarding the site.

Respectfully,
Tim Carlisle,
National Senior Vice Commander & Chief Technology Officer
